

CECS and Explora Program invited regional schools to participate on the construction of a sun clock. Over twenty schools participated in the challenge. The jury integrated by three international scientists from our study center, selected the winners out of the two categories in contest. (High School, Middle School and Elementary).

Visita nuestra galeria

